AMEND Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 633, Page 4, Secti 301.227, Line 112, by inserting after all of said section and line the following:  "407.293. 1. (1) As used in this section and section 407.294, "commodity metal" means: containing brass, copper, copper alloy, aluminum, stainless steel, or magnesium or another metal to the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity metal" shall als include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchase vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert some scrap purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alert erceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a reg containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record cach transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current addr	HOUSE AMENDMEN	AMENDMENT NO
"407.293. 1. (1) As used in this section and section 407.294, "commodity metal" means containing brass, copper, copper alloy, aluminum, stainless steel, or magnesium or another metal to the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity metal" shall als include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchas vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert so identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regeontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purc	Offered By
"407.293. 1. (1) As used in this section and section 407.294, "commodity metal" means containing brass, copper, copper alloy, aluminum, stainless steel, or magnesium or another metal to the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity metal" shall als include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchas vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert semployees to use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regional and switten or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a fu	AMEND Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 633,	Page 4, Section
containing brass, copper, copper alloy, aluminum, stainless steel, or magnesium or another metal to the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity metal" shall also include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchase vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert segurchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alerteceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regional and written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate recove ach transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	301.227, Line 112, by inserting after all of said section and line the following: the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity metal" shall also include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchase vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert separated by the scrap theft alert separated separated by the scrap theft alert separated separated separated and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the section and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	"407.293. 1. (1) As used in this section and section 407.294, "commodity n	netal" means a metal include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.  (2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchas vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert separated and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	containing brass, copper, copper alloy, aluminum, stainless steel, or magnesium or ar	nother metal traded o
(2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who purchases on commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchase vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert sepurchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regeontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	the commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater. "Commodity markets that sells for fifty cents per pound or greater."	netal" shall also commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like, that purchas vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert sepurchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regeontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	include precious metals such as gold, silver, or platinum.
vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include pawnbroker defined in section 367.011.  2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert sometimes (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regiontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate recovered transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	(2) As used in this section and section 407.294, "purchaser" is a person who	purchases only sma
2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s  (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region awritten or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	commodities, including retail jewelers, but shall not include salvage yards, or the like	e, that purchase who
2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:  (1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s  (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regeontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	vehicles that may contain small commodities as part of the vehicle nor does it include	e pawnbrokers, as
(1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of Scrap Recyclin Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a regeontaining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	defined in section 367.011.
Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of commodity metal purchaser's geographic area;  (2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s  (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alert received and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region taining a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	2. A purchaser of commodity metals shall:
(2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s  (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region training a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from whom the precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be trade including the quantity by weight thereof.	(1) Sign up with the scrap theft alert system maintained by the Institute of So	crap Recycling
(2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scrap theft alert s  (3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alert received and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from whom the precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be trade including the quantity by weight thereof.	Industries, Inc., or its successor organization, to receive alerts regarding thefts of con	nmodity metals in th
(3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including training the purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.  3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft alereceived and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region training a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	purchaser's geographic area;
3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft ale received and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region transaction and such record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from whom the precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	(2) Download and maintain the scrap metal theft alerts generated by the scra	p theft alert system;
3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of any theft ale received and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also maintain documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the 4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchased including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be trade including the quantity by weight thereof.	(3) Use the alerts to identify potentially stolen commodity metals, including	training the
documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a reg containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate reco each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the perso whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purc trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	purchaser's employees to use the alerts during the purchaser's daily operations.
documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees, scrap the  4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a reg containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate reco each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the perso whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purc trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	3. A purchaser of commodity metals shall maintain for ninety days copies of	any theft alerts
4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, shall keep a region containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	received and downloaded under subsection 1 of this section. A purchaser shall also re-	naintain containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a separate record each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purchase including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	documentation that the purchaser educates employees about, and provides to employees	ees, scrap theft alert each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the driver's license or identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such pure trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	4. Every purchaser of precious metals, including gold, silver, or platinum, sh	all keep a register identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereof to the person whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such pure trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	containing a written or electronic record for each purchase or trade. There shall be a	separate record for whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the person from who precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purc trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	each transaction and such record shall contain the following data: a copy of the drive	er's license or photo precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of each such purc trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	identification issued by the state or by the United States government or agency thereo	of to the person from trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subsection shall be	whom the precious metal is obtained, which shall contain a current address of the per	son from whom the
	precious metal is obtained, and the date, time, and place of and a full description of e	ach such purchase o trade including the quantity by weight thereof. The records required under this subse	ection shall be maintained for a minimum of twenty-four months from when such precious metal is obtained and s	maintained for a minimum of twenty-four months from when such precious metal is	obtained and shall be available for inspection by any law enforcement officer.	available for inspection by any law enforcement officer.
	Action Taken Date	1

Action Taken	Date 2
6. This section shall expire J	uly 1, 2017."; and in, attending meetings of the task force	 e shall not be compensated for, or reimbursed for expenses incurre the task force's meetings, findings, an
•	representatives and the senate or any successor committees regard ce, as designated by the task force, shall report annually to the recordkeeping requirements of this se es of a civil penalty process for egregious and repeat violators of commodity metal reported stolen in the norities if a purchased commodity metal is a potential match of a ding when and how a commodity metals purchaser should be requ stolen materials;
-	ssist law enforcement personnel in theft prevention and recovery tices to aid in tracking or apprehending stolen commodity metals consider:
	s or communication issues. The task force is specifically directed ways in which Missouri laws regulati	ing commodity metals purchases can be improved to reduce theft,
-	sharing relevant information on theft of scrap metal, identifying basis, convening at least every October, to discuss issues related Recycling Industries, Inc., or its successor organization. Thereafter
-	te use by law enforcement agencies of the scrap theft alert system vay to distribute and use information related to theft of scrap meta its first meeting no later than January 1, 2013. At the first meeting ilroad company that operates in Missouri. blic utility that uses commodity metals; and County Commissioners Association of Missouri;
-	Missouri municipal league or its successor entity;
Industries, Inc., or its successor organ ated in Missouri who is a member of the Institute of Scrap Recycl organization or another entity represe commodity metals recyclers, such as	the Institute of Scrap Recycling Industries, Inc., or its successor
(5) A representative of a nat	ional trade association or other organization that represents
(4) A contractor that uses co	emmodity metals in construction;
(3) A municipal police chief	Cappointed by the Missouri Association of Chiefs of Police;
(2) A sheriff appointed by a	Missouri Sheriffs' Association;
public safety;
(1) A member of the Missou	ri highway patrol appointed by the director of the department of
2. The task force consists of	the following ten persons or their designees:
as "task force".
10712711 11 THEIR IS HEIRES	created the "Commodity Metals Theft Task Force", hereafter kno

1 2	Further amend said bill by amending the title, enacting claus	se, and intersectional references accordingly.
	Action Taken	Date 3